Bring in the patio furniture and make sure the leaves are bagged: the next four months are going to be chilly. But we Mainers know how to hibernate right: fill a beautiful room with lovingly handmade goods and super warm vintage finds for the season!

The Big Chill is brought to you by Little Eye and is the follow-up to last April's successful Big Thaw, which had a huge early Spring turnout!

~

Dudes! This year we are placing an emphasis on crafts for dudes and kids. Don't worry, though, we are looking for the perfect lady/man/kid balance so all you jewelers need not fret! We just want the Big Chill to be a place where everyone can find something they like.

Spaces are available upstairs and downstairs in varying shapes and sizes. Vendor fee for upstairs spaces is $45, vendor fee for downstairs spaces is $35. Spaces are limited, no location is guaranteed. $10 refunds will be given to vendors who applied upstairs but are showing downstairs.

No two spaces are alike in the funky architecture at Mayo St. – we will be in touch with you before November 1st with a more accurate description of your space for all your merchandise planning needs.

The Fine Print: All applications need to be filled out in full accompanied with a vendor fee check made out to “Audrey Hotchkiss.” Applications with missing or incomplete information will not be considered. Vendors will be notified/posted on or before October 31st, 2011.

Once your application is accepted your vendor fee check will be deposited. Because The Chill is a DIY craft fair and Mayo St. is cozy, we unfortunately cannot accept all applications. Unaccepted vendor fee checks will be shredded for your personal safety.

The Big Chill Vendor Application

Please attach a vendor fee check for upstairs ($45) or downstairs ($35) made out to 'Audrey Hotchkiss' and mail to: Audrey Hotchkiss, 62 Smith St. #2, Portland, ME 04101
